Introduction

Are you planning to travel to Rome and wondering if Vatican Museum tickets are worth it? Well, the first major destination of people visiting Rome or the Vatican City is the Vatican Museums. This is the place where you will find the city's greatest treasures. It is also situated in the centre of Rome, making it an easier place to travel and also adding to its allure. Your trip to the Vatican City will remain incomplete without a visit to the Vatican Museum. So, investing in tickets for Vatican Museums will be an excellent idea. Keep reading to know more reasons behind this and which places you can visit with these tickets.

Vatican City- Three Major Things to Know About the City

- It is the capital of Catholicism.
- It is the world's smallest country and independent country.
- The Vatican Museums houses thousands of ancient artworks.
- Every year, Vatican City witnesses more than 6 million tourists.
- It is the home to the Last Judgment of Michelangelo.

The Vatican Museums

The most interesting thing about the Vatican Museums is that these are a series of beautiful galleries where you will find some of the world's famous artwork created by well-known persons or, you can say, high-Renaissance masters like Raphael, Michelangelo and more. You will find more than 70,000 artworks here. The first destination most people visit in the Vatican Museums is the Sistine Chapel. There, you can see the Creation of Adam and the Last Judgment. Some other popular galleries you can visit are:

- Pio Clementino Gallery
- Candelabra Gallery
- The Pinacoteca
- Raphael Rooms
- Gallery of the Maps
- Gallery of the Tapestries

St. Peter's Basilica

The tickets you will get also allow you to visit the Basilica of St. Peter. Built between the 16th to 17th centuries, this is a masterpiece of Renaissance or Roman architecture. Most of the designs and elements were created by Bernini, Michelangelo, Raphael, Bramante and other famous people. The dome was designed by Michelangelo, and one can climb to the top of it. From there, you will have mesmerizing views of the city. Inside the Basilica, you will see a series of precious treasures in bronze and marble. You will see the Cupola, Michelangelo's Pieta, the Statue of St. Longinus, the Papal Altar, Vatican Grottoes, St. Peter's Tomb and more.
